Adding Reflections to Your Learning Portfolio

Reflections are the most important piece of your Learning Portfolio – they provide the thinking behind your Artifacts, as well as many other insights into your learning. Reflections are highly individualized and showing how you think through problems can help you identify how you learn best as well as accentuate your individuality.

To begin to reflect using the Learning Portfolio, click in the box with the “What are you learning?” prompt and begin typing your reflection.

Optionally add tags to organize the contents of your portfolio. When finished, click Add to Learning Portfolio.
